LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND NON PROFIT AGENCIES RESPOND TO FORECLOSURE CRISIS

Foreclosure Event Sunday, May 16th, 2010

Marina, CA – On Sunday, May 16th, 2010 from 1:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M. at the Marina Public Library’s Community Room (190 Seaside Circle, Marina, CA 93911), The Central Coast Foreclosure Collaborative, a working group of city and county agencies, community-based organizations, and community groups, will be hosting an event that will help embattled local homeowners at risk of foreclosure.

The collaborative will bring together a panel of experts as well as representatives from the federal, state, and county government. This is a panel geared toward getting information to homeowners in foreclosure or at risk of foreclosure who want to know what to expect and what options might be available. Special speaker at the event will be Assemblymember Bill Monning.

As many residents who are facing foreclosure know, foreclosure is a very complicated and emotionally devastating process. It is difficult to know what is best for a family in the long-run, and people need specific information and useful advice. Assemblymember Monning addresses this lack of information that many homeowners feel, “When people are facing the threat of losing their homes, they need factual, unbiased information. This workshop has been designed to provide people with the tools they will need to navigate through the difficult financial situation they are facing.”

This free event will provide information about:

- Options for Homeowners Facing Foreclosure
- Free and Low-Cost Resources for Homeowners
- Reporting Fraud and Avoiding “Rescue” Scams
- Finding Resources for HUD-Certified Housing Counseling, Debt Counseling, Bankruptcy, and Credit Counseling
- Obtaining Emotional Support in the Face of Harsh Realities

Spanish translation will be provided.
